DETAILED ACTION

1. The final rejection that mailed out on 03/30/05 is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-4 and 6-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fukuyama et al. (6,231,244).

Fukuyama et al., figure 2, disclose an optical interconnect device comprising:

- a fiber optic cable (46a) having two ends and comprising a plurality of optical fibers (48) each surrounded by a protective jacket (not labeled), wherein a diameter of the fiber optic cable is larger than a diameter of the each optical fiber and wherein the protective jacket of at least a first end of the each fiber optic cable has been removed thereby exposing the optical fiber;
- a ribbonized assembly (49) encasing a portion of the first end of the fiber optic cable and the optical fibers, wherein the fiber optic cable occupies an input zone, the fiber occupies an output zone, the cable and fibers both occupy a transition zone in which the fibers are non-parallel, and the optical fibers in the output zone lie parallel to one another and has a first pitch; and

- a ferrule (not labeled) attached to the ribbonized assembly, the ferrule having a plurality of internal grooves (43) having a second pitch; wherein the first pitch of the optical fibers is substantially equal to the second pitch of the ferrule.

Fukuyama et al. disclose the instant claimed invention as described above except for a plurality of fiber optic cables.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to separate Fukuyama et al's cable to have a plurality of fiber optic cables, since it has been held that constructing a formerly integral structure in various elements involves only routine skill in the art. Nerwin v. Erlichman, 168 USPQ 177, 179, in order to reduce cost and easy assembly.

Regarding claim 2, the optical fibers in the ribbonized assembly are nearly touching one another.

Regarding claim 3, the ribbonized assembly is of a geometry that will not violate the minimum bend radius of the optical fiber.

Regarding claim 4, the fiber optic cable is a tight buffer fiber cable.

Regarding claim 6, Fukuyama et al. disclose the instant claimed invention as described above except for the ribbonized assembly comprising an ultraviolet light curable resin. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide Fukuyama et al. to have the ribbonized assembly comprising an ultraviolet light curable resin, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of it s suitability for the intended use as a matter of design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Regarding claim 7, the ribbonized assembly comprising non-active fibers disposed adjacent to the optical fibers.

Regarding claims 8-10, the non-active fibers are of the same construction as the optical fibers, the optical fibers are disposed between the non-active fibers.

Regarding claim 11, the protective jacket on both ends of the fiber optic cable has been removed to expose the optical fibers.

Regarding claim 12, the ferrule is terminated to a MT connector.

Regarding claims 13 and 14, the second end of the fiber optic cable is terminated to an optical device, the optical device is a simplex v-groove.

Regarding claim 15, the ribbonized assembly is straight.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

6. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 2839

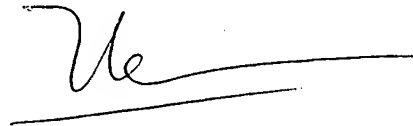

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
